

Publicity Policy

The Foellinger Foundation believes that the work it supports through your organization and others is important to our community. Therefore, we encourage you to share news about your Foellinger Foundation grant with staff and board members, volunteers, other prospective funders, the people you serve, the news media and the community in general.

Approval of grant announcements:

If you plan to communicate in writing about your grant — via a letter, newsletter, Web site, Web site link, telefax or a news release — our grant agreement requires that you share a draft copy with us before you publish or distribute it. That way, we can make sure your organization and the Foundation are saying the same thing about the grant and any special requirements we've included with it.

Turnaround time:

We'll try to handle your request for approval quickly, but whenever possible, please allow at least five working days for us to review your draft or prepare an approved comment.

How to get approval:

For approval of draft communications, please fax a request to Cheryl Taylor, President, at 422-9436.
